

GOOD ENOUGH PARENT, GOOD ENOUGH CHILD

How to Have an “Imperfect” Family and Be Perfectly Satisfied

Dr. Brad Sachs

Family psychologist and educator specializing in clinical work with children, adolescents, and families, Founder and Director of The Father Center, and best-selling author of The Good Enough Teen: Raising Adolescents with Love and Acceptance

Dr. Denise Pope

Challenge Success Co-Founder, Senior Lecturer at the Stanford University Graduate School of Education, author of Doing School, and co-author of Overloaded and Underprepared: Strategies for Stronger Schools and Healthy, Successful Kids

MAY 4, 2018, 7:00-8:30 PM

Dover-Sherborn High School

9 Junction Street, Dover, MA

Open to the public | $10 per ticket

We intuitively know that no family is perfect, yet it can be challenging to accept our imperfections as part of life and parenting. What can parents do to ensure that the ideals of perfection and “success” do not get in the way of kids’ health, engagement in learning, and strong connections with family, friends, and communities? How can we parent with patience, clarity, and resolve, and feel more compassion for our children - and also for ourselves? Dr. Sachs and Dr. Pope will share practical strategies to help parents embrace challenges as opportunities for growth for both generations.

Purchase tickets at www.challengesuccess.org